- Through research and development, we can create an existing spice blend and formula, or create a custom formula that meets your specific needs.
- Once a formula has been perfected, we can guarantee quality of a product by manufacturing it in our state of the art, federally inspected USDA facility.
- Once manufactured, we offer a variety of packaging techniques that are designed to match each individual customers marketing needs, and to maximize shelf life.
- Our central location, just west of Chicago, allows for easy distribution or shipping anywhere in the United States.
